STATINTL

For Aid Against Castro

A letter to the editor April 14, "Waves Of Cuban Invasion," by H. B. Heater, of Chapel Hill, N. C., should not go unanswered. It appears that Mr. Heater has provided an unwitting work of Communist craftsmanship. His letter lauded C.I.A. "clandestine operations" and advocated recognition of the Communist Dictator Castro and held Monroe Doctrine obsolete. Mr. Heater, recently returned from Cuba, doubts that "our planned counter-revolution" could succeed.

Spineless acquiescence to the Communist piecemeal aggression is the greatest danger in the world today. Our government and citizens have a moral responsibility to resist the spread of this ruthless monster and the sowing of its atheistic seeds before its cancerous tentacles envelop the entire world. Only by deceptive infiltration does Communism gain a foothold. Only by suppression of free elections and a free press does it maintain control. Castro has followed this blueprint perfectly.

It would be far better for the Cuban people to suffer casualties in a counter-revolution than permit Castro to continue his slow strangulation of Cuban dignity and "blood bath" of executions. Short of sending troops, it is our moral obligations to assist freedom-loving Cubans in releasing the Castro shackle.
